

Year 7 ILT: What is Geography?

Assignment	B	D	S	P
What is Geography?	Complete a spider diagram with words connected to Geography. Make sure you identify the difference between physical and human geography.	For each word you have written, write a description of what exactly you think you would study this about this topic in Geography.	Write a paragraph about each of the topics that you would study in Geography and explain how this would link to life in the real World.	All three prior stages are completed in detail and there is evidence of independent research
Jobs related to Geography.	Complete a spider diagram of all the jobs that you think would have something to do with Geography.	For each of the jobs that you have included in your mind map write a short description for each one explaining why it is something to do with Geography.	Choose at least one of the jobs and write a detailed description of the job and the different things that a person doing this job might do. Perhaps you could research on line actual examples of these jobs.	All three prior stages are completed in detail and there is evidence of independent research
Geography on the TV	Watch a Geography related programme on TV and list at least five geographical facts you found out.	Summarise the programme in your own words.	Summarise the programme in your own words and then state the link between the programme and Geography.	The student has watched several programmes and comparisons between them have been made.
Areas of Geographical Interest within the UK (physical and human)	Find out the names of five places of geographical interest in the UK that are physical geography and five places of geographical interest in the UK that are human Geography.	On an outline map of the British isles locate these 10 places. Please ask your Geography teacher if you would like an outline map of the British Isles.	For each of these locations find out some facts about these places? For example you might find out why people visit them, when they were built or formed and what sort of activities people would do if they visited them.	Research has been conducted into another country and the human and physical characteristics have been identified. A comparison has been made with the UK
